NEW YORK, Jan. 12.-Some confusion of interpretation on the peace outlook inspired various movements in today's stock market with a considerable volume of trading. The opening was effected by a strong up-Stutz Mot... 50 ward movement which carried the in-StL&SF... 2314 2314 dustrial list to gains of one to two SL&SWpf. 5014 5014 points or so.

The general advance, however, was Texas Pac. 1714 brief and a reaction from the top Ten.C & C.wi 1414 prices had set in before the close of the first half hour. United States Steel early moved forward through points up, but later reacted Republic Steel, which advanced more than two points at the opening, lost nearly a point of this gain. The copper shares were nar-rower in their movements, but strong throughout. The sugar shares were US Ind Al... 120 strong also, but failed to hold. The equipment and munition spe cialties made substantial fractional gains with the exception of Baldwin ocomotive, which lost more than a point, with subsequent partial recovery. The motor shares were not much changed, although General Motors new stock sold below 107.

The railroad list was little changed. Union Pacific made a slight fractional advance. Reading gained a point at the opening, but soon dropped back to the Thursday level. The list as a whole was neglected.

The offering on Graphophone com mon was lowered from 164 to 163, with no bld, while the preferred stock was offered at 162, with no bid. The bid for Mergenthaler Linotype stock was advanced a point to 166, with the offering unchanged at 167%.

Stockholders of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, at the annual meeting March 13, will be asked to approve the agreement for acquisition of property and franchises of the Harrisburgh, Portsmouth, Mt. Joy and Lancaster Railroad Company. This road constitutes that portion of the main line of the Pennsylvania be-tween Lancaster and Harrisburg, and the Pennsylvania now owns over 80 per cent of its stock. Stockholders will be asked to approve an increase in authorized indebtedness of the com-pany to the extent of $75,000,000.

This will enable the board of direc-ors to issue from time to time such amounts, either of general mortgage bonds or of capital stock that has neretofore been authorized by stock lders as may be necessary to vide for the company's capital re-quirements in the near future.

Net earnings of the International Mercantile Marine Company for the past year were approximately $40,000. earnings in September, it is stated unofficially, were $3,700,000; October, $3,900,000; November, in excess of $4,-500,000, and with December earnings figures indicate a steady and con sistent earning power. It is stated in shipping circles that the decrease in earnings on space commandeered by the British government will be largely made up by the increase in earn-ngs from space offered to the public. December earnings for the Lackaings from space offered to the wanna Steel Company were the largest in the company's history. Attacks Republicans.

Congressman Harrison bitterly attacked the Republicans because of their alleged "little partisanship in this matter." He criticised Mr. Wood for dragging in the names of prominent men "on a measly anonymous letter sig'ned by some 'A. Curtis.'
"Mind you, the Curtis letter was re-ceived after the resolution was intro-duced by Mr. Wood," said Harrison.

"The second resolution quotes the words of this irresponsible, frenzied four-flusher Thomas W. Lawson, who says Congress has been wallowing in for forty years." "You Republicans are being bluffed by this Lawson," shouted Mr. Harrison.

You let him sit in a hotel in this city and dictate page advertisements and then you come here and attempt to play mean, nasty politics, thinking you benefit by it. I thought this sort of thing had stopped with the November elections, but you have started again."

"Failure is a weed that grows when you let things go," he said. He emphasized the need of serving the public faithfully in the shoe business. Calls For Apology. Congressman Harrison declared that "Mr. Wood owes a public apology to Secretary Tumity, Barney Baruch, Otto "Never dictate to your customer," he said, "let him pick what he wants Kahn, Secretary Lansing and others who have been dragged into this af-fair because of the measley A. OVER LEAK PROBE

| Conducted as to yield private profit, and the importance is magnified when such questions grow out of our international relations. Every phase of the conduct of such questions as these should be above suspicion.

"The Committee on Rules early in its proceedings, took steps to preserve important testimony that might be important to an investigating the important to an investigating the committee in commection with these committees in commercial commercial committees in commercial commercial committees in commercial committees in commercial commercial commerci mittee in connection with these charges.

"Stock exchanges and stock brokers

throughout the country have been no-tified to preserve all their records that would have a bearing upon the names of those who took advantage of the stock market at the time the advance information as to the note was affecting the market.

"This testimony has not been taken. The committee was informed that records have been ordered preserved that will disclose the names of the beneficiaries of the leak, even though the transactions were

onfronted with a grave responsibility and an important duty. "For many days rumors have been afloat and charges made that Govern-ment officials had violated the secrecy with respect to grave interna tional questions, and that Government officials and others had profited by violating the confidence the country laced in them.

"I have believed from the time hese charges were first published that the importance of purging the Government of such a srious scandal was an important duty. I do not think we should rest the charges or the scandal on the statements of Thomas W. Lawson, of Boston. The charges were published and generally believed throughout the country be became prominent in conection with them.

"His refusal to testify to "His refusal to testify to important matters that he says came to his knowledge did not leave the committee and does not leave the House without information upon which the House ought now to proceed to order a searching investigation that will clear up this whole matter and purge the Government of the United States of one of the most serious scandals that has had wide publicity with respect to our Government in half a century. "The last witness called before the Committee on Rules, the news editor of the Wall Street Journal, Mr. Reilly, testified that on the twentieth day of December, at about 11:30 o'clock in the afternoon, one of his reporters brought him news that the rumor was on the street, received over the private wire of a Washington broker, that President Wilson was about to Street Journal.

Told Where To Go.

Congressman Bennet said, amid aughter, that: "Mr. Lawson has had opportunity to tell us where to go—and we have consented to go there."

"The majority are afraid to investigate this leak," he continued. "I absolve from this statement Mr. Cantrill of Kentucky. He is not afraid. Lawson took the legal ground that the only duty of the Rules Com mittee was to report whether there shall be an investigation. In this he was right. He promised to give more information to a select committe. He said 'I will' when Mr Cantrill asked committee.

Material Witnesses Needed.

"The majority called out the witnesses in Washington who could not prove anything. You cannot make out a case without material nesses' Mr. Heflin of Alabama referred to

Mr. Lawson as "a crazy man who tesletter."

Congress Bennet of New York was loudly applauded by the Republicans ington papers must reach the conclu-Heflin. Congressman Ferris of Oklahoma, Democrat, contended that "if Mr. Lawson were a responsible man the this investigation to the last note." Congressman Garrett, of Tennesse urged that the resolution be laid on the table "because not a single scintil-la of evidence, not a single intimation has been furnished that would connect any member of this House with stock speculation.'

"PRAYERS TOWARD PEACE"

So Says Stone, Commenting on Note From Allies.

"Some progress has been made oward peace, in my opinion," was the comment of Senator Stone, chairman of the Senate Foreign Delations Committee, today on the new entente note. "The central powers first indicated willingness to negotiate. Now the entente powers present a general out-line of terms. That is something. I do not regard it improbable "Officials of the Government are something more specific as to terms under suspicion. An investigation will come from the central powers, should be had that will purge the It is a slow process, but the fact that Government of that suspicion, no mat- the two sides have begun talking breaks the ice. "It is important to the people that Senagor Stone would not predict the public questions should not be so probable course of the Administration.
